Abstract

Annotation: linguistics or linguistics studies and analyzes the weapon of communication, which is a kind of complex social phenomenon - language as a system - as a whole object. In the Aupi process, it is observed in various manifestations, forms. It follows from the essence of the eda language to the social character, from the fact that it must be turned, checked from different sides, and this is absolutely correct from the point of view of the point of view of science.

Keywords: linguistics, language as social phenomenon, language as a system
